| Key features of Nuco development tokens (NCDTs) | NCDTs are transferable cryptographic tokens based on the Ethereum Blockchain and the ERC-20 standard. NCDTs do not grant any rights of any kind with regard to the company. In particular, NCDTs do not convey ownership, distribution, redemption, liquidation or ownership rights (including any forms of intellectual property) or any other property or other right relating to the company. Iron Eagle is currently planning to develop and build a blockchain technology-based distributed computing cloud (called nuco.cloud). The exact design of the nuco.cloud is not yet firmly established. After the completion of the nuco.cloud, it is planned to convert all NCDTs into Nuco tokens ("NUCOs") on the basis of a yet to be determined conversion factor ("token swap"). NUCOs will be able to be used as a means of payment for computing power through the nuco.cloud. The exact design of the NUCOs is not yet determined. | | | | | | | | | | | | |

| How the digital content works | To receive NCDTs, the customer must own an ERC-20 compliant crypto-wallet. This may incur additional costs. The customer is solely responsible for the compatibility of the crypto-wallet used and for the secure storage of the transferred tokens. Internet access is required for the transfer or use of the NCDTs and after the token swap of the NUCOs. |
| Restrictions on interoperability and digital content compatibility | When NCDTs get transferred to a non-compatible wallet, they may become permanently inoperative (in particular after the NUCOs token swap). NUCOs will only work within nuco.cloud and will not be compatible with other computing clouds. |
| Potential additional costs | The investor must bear any costs that may be incurred in connection with the wallet that belongs to him, as well as, where applicable, for transfers to Iron Eagle in euros (such as transfer fees) or cryptocurrencies (for example, "gas" when paying with ether). Such fees and charges are billed to the customer not by Iron Eagle, but by third parties. The customer has to bear their own costs for Internet, postage, telephone, etc. |
| Technical steps resulting in contract conclusion | Prerequisite for the purchase of NCDTs is registration at the https://nuco.cloud website, identification of the input of certain personal data, and the verification of the customer identity by comparing the information with the uploaded document copies (such as identity card) and the implementation of a Video-Ident procedure. We use a third-party service provider for verification of the customer identity. The Customer places a binding order to purchase NCDTs by clicking the "Order against payment" button at the end of the online ordering process. Iron Eagle will accept the customer's purchase order as part of the online ordering process. |
| Storage and accessibility of the contract | Iron Eagle stores the customer's completed subscription order in the online order process. It can be viewed at Iron Eagle anytime. The GTC, risk notices, and white paper are permanently available to be viewed or downloaded on the website https://nuco.cloud . |
| Technical means for detecting and correcting input errors | Before the customer submits a binding order by clicking the "Order against payment" button, all previously entered data will be displayed again so that he can review it and correct it if necessary. The investor should click the "Order against payment" button only once he has fully verified that all information is correct. |
| Languages available for the conclusion of the contract | German, English. |
| Accepted forms of payment | Payments in euros are accepted by SEPA transfer, Sofort transfer, Klarna, and micropayment. |
